A 'SNAPSHOT TASTING' OF QUALITY FRENCH WINES

All Exhibitors were asked to submit a selection of three wines per table for the 'Snapshot Tasting'. From this, one wine per table was selected so that the final range of wines offered today would represent as wide and varied a selection as possible. Wines were not pre-tasted. We have provided an approximate retail price and, where possible, retail stockists. If retail stockist information is not supplied, please consult the Importer or Exhibitor.

The wines at France Under One Roof represent the AOC ambassadors, vintage 2009, from Project Sauvignon Blanc de Loire which were selected in February during a blind tasting by a panel of 4 UK wine professionals, led by Sam Harrop MW. This is a technical and commercial project carried out by a group of Loire producers and négociants. It involves both AOC and Vins de Pays wines from the Touraine region in the Loire Valley made with Sauvignon Blanc. The Project is run by InterLoire, is managed by a local oenological technical team, and has employed Harrop as its international consultant. The main purpose is to create a better profile for Touraine Sauvignon Blanc de Loire, and to raise the region's image in order to increase the perception and value of the wines on the UK market. Both the AOC and Vins de Pays ambassadors will be shown at this year's London International Wine Fair in May. The AOC wines have also been entered into the International Wine Challenge this year.

Set in the Languedoc's dramatic landscape of picturesque hills and Cathar castles, Mont Tauch is one of France's leading cooperatives, based in the heart of the Fitou appellation in the Languedoc, Southern France.

Mont Tauch covers 1950 hectares made up of 7,000 small vineyards dotted around the villages of Tuchan, Paziols, Villeneuve and Durban. Each village is recognised for its specific terroir and for the character of its wines.

Mont Tauch produces a wide range of great AOC wines and Vin de Pays suitable for all occasions. The wines reflect this exceptional natural wealth of diversity and beauty in the Mediterranean landscape. All Mont Tauch wines are made with the use of sustainable agriculture.

Located in Mercurey, Antonin Rodet was founded in 1875 by Antoine Rodet. Progressively over the years Antonin Rodet has acquired the domaines of Château de Rully and Château de Mercey. The domaine holdings were increased further in 2006 by the purchase of the famous Nuits St Georges 1er Cru monopole vineyard, the Clos de Thorey. Today with 220 acres, Antonin Rodet remains one of the great merchant houses of Burgundy and a leader in the Côte Chalonnaise.

Domaine Fouassier is one of the leading producers of Sancerre. The estate is run by the 9th and 10th generation of the family. All their domaine wines are vinified separately to conserve the unique qualities of the 'terroir'. They are converting the vineyard into the organic and biodynamic culture (Ecocert certified) and BRC certified (global standards for safe food).

Pierre Chainier

The engaging Chainier family are based at Amboise and own several estates including Château de la Roche, Château de Poce, Domaine Roc de Châteauvieux and the tiny Clos de Nouys, a beautiful estate planted with Chenin Blanc. The latest vintages of Touraine Sauvignon's and Vouvrays will be presented at this year's event together with their new sparkling wine, Pierre Chainier Brut Seduction and a new Muscadet under the Première label, produced jointly with Boutinot.

Boutinot

Celebrating its 30th year in 2010, Boutinot have by today grown into an international producer and distributor with production bases in France, Italy and South Africa. 'Boutinot, France' was established in 1990 to give a permanent presence in the country. In addition to Boutinot's wholly owned ranges, partnerships have also been formed with key producers such as Pierre Chainier to develop the Première the Loire range, which this year includes a new Muscadet and has recently expanded to include Première the Rhône. In Bordeaux, in partnership with Ginestet, Boutinot have developed the 'Classique' range of traditional Bordeaux in contemporary packaging.

Boutinot

Celebrating its 30th year in 2010, Boutinot have by today grown into an international producer and distributor with production bases in France, Italy and South Africa. 'Boutinot, France' was established in 1990 to give a permanent presence in the country. Here, under the guidance of winemakers Samantha Bailey and Eric Monnin ultimate stylistic control is retained and new consumer-friendly concepts are developed, such as the highly successful Chat-en-Oeuf range.

Cave de Turckheim

A long-standing relationship with 280 growers allows head winemaker Michel Lihrman to select the highest quality grapes from some of the best sites in Alsace. Central to Turckheim's success is an uncompromising quest for quality across their extensive range of wines, coupled with their commercial sense and ability to innovate and invest in the winery (they have recently been awarded BRC A* status). Showing today are a Vieilles Vignes Riesling and two new Gewurztraminer blends.

The Mas family has been a vineyard owner in the Languedoc since 1892. Today, four generations later, Jean Claude Mas has brought a new world approach with his "Luxe Rural" philosophy. Jean Claude offers a complete solution for Languedoc wines – interesting volume blends, elegant Pays d'Oc varietals, organic varietals and blends, and quality AOC wines under a range of Domaine and Château identities. The wines enjoy success in Top 100 Vins de Pays and international wine competitions year after year.

New to the Mas des Mas range is a full bodied, spicy Picpoul de Pinet and a soft, chocolatey St. Chinian, whilst Tutti Frutti wines join the Arrogant Frog line up.

Created in 1960 and situated over the renowned villages of Chusclan and Laudun, the Cave des Vignerons des 4 Chemins counts today 200 winegrowers who combine their know-how and dynamism to build the reputation of the '4 Chemins' wines.

We produce fresh and fruity wines which also boast a truly modern style. 70% of our production is AOC wines including 25% Côtes du Rhône Villages and 25% white Côtes du Rhône. Because of their large proportion of subtly blended Grenache, they are particularly distinctive - 30% of our production is Vins de Pays and varietals.

Quality of production is a prime concern and we encourage our member-growers to share our environmental concerns. Several domaines have been certified 'Reasoned Viticulture'.

I work with growers and négociants who make good quality wines with some individuality in Champagne, Burgundy, the Rhône and the Midi on an ex. cellars basis.

Champagne Alexandre Bonnet is one of the Aube's finest producers specialising in Pinot Noir Champagnes with over 40 hectares of vines in Les Riceys.

Stephane Brocard, from Chablis has started out as an independent negociant, vinifying and dealing with growers in the Côte d'Or.

Le Cave Les Coteaux du Rhône is the very progressive cooperative at Serignan with over 1000 hectares in Côtes du Rhône, Massif de Uchaux, Plan de Dieu and Vacqueyras.

Maison Pascal has several Domaines in Vacqueyras, Gigondas and Crozes Hermitage. In addition Yves Cheron vinifies about 9000 hectos of bought in grapes and wines for other growers.

Pierre Roque is one of the most highly qualified Oenologues in the Midi, his work has taken him all over the world from Spain and Italy to Argentina, Russia and China.

Founded in 1811, Ackerman is based in Saumur at the heart of the Loire Valley. It is superbly placed to supply wines from Muscadet to Sancerre and virtually every famous appellation in between.

François Martenot is an exciting newcomer to the UK off trade market. The company is a major producer of exceptional Burgundy wines with a rare balance of quality and value.

Vignerons de Tutiac is a young, progressive co-operative founded in 1974 by a visionary team who recognised the potential for Sauvignon Blanc in the Côtes de Blaye.

The UVAL group, at present, has about 1,300 ha (3,212 acres) of vineyards with 60 wine growers, and provides 25% of the island production with almost 90,000 hectolitres per year.

The different « Pieves » that make up its vineyards are mostly spread out at the foot of high mountains, along the eastern coast of the island.

The group has two specific areas of activity : on the one hand, bottling or packing and on the other hand marketing the wines of its various growers.

United around two vinification sites– la Marana Cellar and the Mont Saint-Jean Cellar – this wine growers' group has at its disposal high-performance facilities and very efficient equipment, which enable them to follow a high-quality policy.

Crush Wines specialise in sourcing from quality minded producers from all over the world. They involve themselves in all aspects of this process from vineyard to bottling. Today we are focussing on two producers. Daniel Bessiere are a specialist negociant based in Meze near Sete. They concentrate mainly on red wine production from the area and have long term contracts with the best growers in the region. They are particularly good for AOC Languedoc and other regional appellations. These wines also form the base of the recently launched les Artiste range. On the table as well will be the sensational Ernest Preiss wines from the medal winning Alsace firm Dopff Irion. They are strong believers in the 'estate' and 'terroir' principles which manifests itself in their wines. At the tasting there will be 2 varietal and amongst others a stunning Grand Cru 2007 Riesling from Vorbourg.

Domaine Chanson joined the Mentzendorff Portfolio in 2002 following their purchase by the Bollinger family in 1999. Ownership of some of the top Premiers and Grands Crus vineyards has long been a priority for the house; Chanson owns 45ha. of Vineyards within the Domaine. Directeur Général Gilles de Courcel and Winemaker Jean-Pierre Confuron continue to improve practices in the winery and vineyards ensure the highest quality in these wines.

Langlois-Chateau has been part of the Société Jacques Bollinger Group since 1973 and is a very well-established house in the Loire since 1885. Today the estate totals 73 hectares and investments are made every year to uphold their dedication to quality. All the Langlois-Chateau vineyards are cultivated under 'Terra Vitis'; this is borne out in their delicious wines each of which are true representations of their terroir.

The Chapoutier family have been making wine in the Rhône Valley since 1808, but it is since 1990 when Michel Chapoutier came to the helm that the wines really began to speak of their origin.

Michel Chapoutier's viticultural vision is highly impressive. His dedication to understanding each parcel of land and allowing it to make the best natural wine it can is breathtaking. He has worked tirelessly to improve every practice in his company investing in staff as well as the winery and vineyard - much of his estate is now farmed biodynamically. Indeed he has also created dynamic projects outside of the Rhône, examples of which can be found here from Roussillon, where he sought old vines.

Perrin & Fils aim to produce the finest wine of the Southern Rhône from their own or leased vineyards. Today the Château de Beaucastel vineyard team looks after nearly 300 ha .

The family's most recent purchase is a beautiful 'Clos' in the heart of the village of Gigondas, while their largest vineyard (apart from Beaucastel) is that of 40 hectares above Vinsobres which provides the grapes not only for Les Cornuds and the extraordinary Les Hauts de Julien but also high quality Syrah for the Perrin Réserve Côtes du Rhône and Villages wines.

Ogier was founded in 1859 and owns the largest cellars in Châteauneuf-du-Pape which it uses to age wines in oak casks of various shapes and sizes - barriques, demi-muids, traditional foudres and cuves tronconiques as well as a separate modern bottling and storage facility in nearby Sorgues. The investments made over the past decade or so have seen the quality of its wines improve dramatically and the purchase of Clos de l'Oratoire des Papes, one of the most historic vineyards in Châteauneuf-du-Pape, and partnerships with forward-thinking growers have reinforced this.

Mistral Wines have been supplying French wines to the trade since 1970 and continue to specialise in wines from the Rhône, Loire and Midi, but also represent other producers from elsewhere, including Beaujolais and Roussillon.

Our aim is to encourage our producers to make ever better, more interesting wines, which are well presented and attractively priced. Our role thereafter is to work with both our suppliers and customers to ensure that everything runs smoothly from the vineyard to the glass.

This year we intend to continue our successes of 2009. Winners of IWC Regional Merchant for Wales and Highly Commended for our Burgundy range are just the tip of the iceberg.

We have spent the last few months sourcing some really exciting new wines from all over France. We will be showcasing some of these new wines across our 4 tables.

Our message is quite simple, if you are looking to buy great wines at a great price that don't appear in supermarkets, then look no further. Follow your nose not the crowd!

Producteurs Plaimont is a major supplier of Vins de Pays from south west France and especially Côtes de Gascogne, well known for its crispy and refreshing style coming from the main grape Colombard.

Leading producer of Saint Mont, Madiran and Pacherenc du Vic-Bilh appellations, Plaimont's wines are made from indigenous varieties. This includes the hugely successful Tannat, particularly praised for its healthy wines, as well as Pinenc, Petit Courbu, Arrufiac and Manseng.

While their philosophy of respect for age-old traditions is key to them, Plaimont's winemakers have not hesitated in investing in Research and Development in order to produce some of France's hidden treasures.
